BQE Core Wins CPA Practice Advisor Innovation Award

CORE, AN ACCOUNTING AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT SOFTWARE, WINS INNOVATION AWARD.

Torrance, CA – July 23, 2019 — BQE Software, Inc., a global leader in accounting and project management software, has been awarded the Tax & Accounting Technology Innovation Award by CPA Practice Advisor for its Core Intelligence AI feature. Core Intelligence is an Artificial Intelligence tool that allows users to have human-like conversations with their business software to gain actionable insights about their company and perform work-related tasks.

“BQE’s Core Intelligence AI system is a dramatic evolution of technology for financial professionals, enhancing the level of insight they can achieve when looking into their business,” said Isaac M. O’Bannon, managing editor of CPA Practice Advisor. “This is precisely the type of technological advancement that the Innovation Awards were designed to honor, since Core Intelligence has the potential to significantly transform and improve the practice of accounting.”

The Innovation Awards honor new or recently enhanced technologies that benefit tax and accounting professionals and their clients through improved workflow, increased accessibility, enhanced collaboration or other means. CPA Practice Advisor’s editorial board and awards committee, a group of accounting thought leaders and professionals from across the country, selects winners and finalists of the Innovation Awards.

“Artificial intelligence in business software is at its early stages,” said Shafat Qazi, founder and CEO of BQE Software. “BQE has demonstrated forward-thinking leadership in AI and the selection committee recognizes such advancements as a value to accounting and business professionals. What an honor to be at the cutting-edge of tech innovations that solve real-world business problems! Thank you to everyone who helped BQE to be bold and uphold our commitment to offer our customers software that changes with the times.”
